Professional Summary

Full-stack developer with 3+ years of experience building and maintaining production-ready web and mobile applications used by real users. Strong foundation in React, JavaScript, and Python (Flask), with experience contributing to customer-facing products and internal tools in agile teams.

After a period focused on family, I am now returning to the workforce and intentionally seeking junior to intermediate roles where I can quickly ramp up, contribute, and continue growing in modern development environments.

Recently focused on modern workflows using AI tools like ChatGPT, Claude, and GitHub Copilot to improve productivity, debugging, and prototyping.

Known for being detail-oriented, collaborative, and pragmatic, with a background in law and culinary arts that strengthens problem-solving and communication.
